► WTC2023 | Abstracts' Submission

Don't miss the chance to publish your research/best practices at the annual premier event of #ITA!

We kindly remind you that the deadline of the WTC2023 Abstracts' Submission, is quickly approaching. We would like to thank those who have already submitted their abstracts. If you haven't managed submitting your abstract yet, please do so at your earliest convenience before the deadline (31 May 2022).

► Open Access Congress

Did you now that WTC2023 will be held as an Open Access Congress?

The conference proceedings will be published in a highly esteemed publisher and will be also SCI indexed. Furthermore, all papers will be open-access, making the published academic research freely and permanently available to anyone, thus increasing the reach and the visibility of the publication.

► The Venue

The Megaron Athens Concert Hall – International Conference Center (MAICC) is an exceptional, modern space for conferences and events of high aesthetics and technology. A reference point for the city, the Megaron, can accommodate up to 6.000 delegates simultaneously, offers a wide selection of multiple meeting rooms as well as comfortable functional exhibition space and a majestic foyer of 12.000 sq.m.

The Megaron Halls

The Megaron is internationally renowned for the acoustics of its halls. A building of modern architecture, dominates imposingly with its Doric austerity on Vasilissis Sofias Avenue. The whole venue is divided structurally into different sections, each enjoying complete static autonomy so that no noise or vibrations will be carried from one venue to another. This allows different events to be staged simultaneously in the various different venues.
